BERLIN, Jan. 13.—Corliss Hoover

Griffin, an American serving a prison sentence in Muebach, Germany, for an attempt to kidnap Grover Cleveland

Bergdoll, the biggest American slacker, and to bring him to justice, has reached the end of his term. This young American, whom a German judge imprisoned so highly for his patriotic work while awaiting his trial, does not have money enough to fight for a pardon.

There is every reason to believe that an appeal for his pardon would be successful, but he must have funds for it. He needs about $5,000.

"My good friends," Lieut. Griffin wrote to The Tribune's Berlin office,

'MELLON-OUCH!' VETERANS' CRY AT BONUS RALLY

Coolidge as 'Friend' Arouses Laughter.

Veterans of the world war jeered the name of Andrew Mellon, secretary of the treasury, and received the mention of President Coolidge's name with laughter during a rally at the Garrick theater yesterday to advance the cause of a national bonus.

At the meeting, held under the auspices of the American Legion, a representative of organized labor pledged its support to the campaign to obtain favorable bonus action from Congress.

Concerning Coolidge's Stand.

Anthony Schmitz, Chicago chapter

No. 2, Disabled Veterans of the World

War, read a resolution in favor of the bonus sent by the disabled ones to President Coolidge. Laughter greeted the reply of C. B. Slomp, the President's secretary, in which he said:

"The President regrets that his stand on this question has been a disappointment to some of his friends."

"Friends! How does he get that way?" some one shouted, and the audience laughed.

Theater Filled to Doors.

Every seat in the house was taken,

some men stood in the aisles, and a crowd of hundreds of others thronged

the lobby.

The secretary of the treasury was called President Coolidge's "shock troops." Every mention of his name met with derisive yells.

President Coolidge was accused of

"breaking the pledge of the late President Harding" and was called

"smart enough to let Mellon take the brunt of his stand against the bonus."

There was a touch of political meaning in the rally. A telegram from

It was different from the ordinary

PART II.—CHAPTER LXIV.

Back and forth he paced the curtains.

Dr. Cloven, profoundly agitated, watched them with the fascination of horror. Clark leaned back in his chair with features impassive as though carved in stone.

"We may have to sit here some time, doctor," he said, "maybe an hour or two, but sooner or later those curtains will swing over the lamp, or I should say, the telephone. It's quite a game isn't it?"

Then for some minutes neither spoke. The ticking of the clock reminded Clark of the story in which drops of water, falling one by one upon a man's forehead, finally killed him.

The doctor's agitation grew until it was painful to watch him. At times he glanced appealingly at a medicine cabinet and Clark knew his tortured nerves were calling for the customary drug.

For over an hour they sat thus. Heads of perspiration stood out on the doctor's forehead, his hands were clenching and unclenching convulsively.

The muscles about his lips were twitching violently and then with a despairing cry, half scream and half sob, he leaped up.

"Oh, why do you persecute me?" he cried.

Clark arose and closed the window.

"Now, doctor, tell me all about it." His voice was gentle, almost paternal. "Start at the very beginning."

Cloven's head was in his hands and his body was rocking back and forth.

"Oh, I must have been mad!" he sobbed. "I couldn't have been in my right senses. It's all a horrrible nightmare. I can't think clearly."

"Let me help you," suggested Clark in a kindly tone. "In the first place, you were eager to take

Miss Brook out for a canoe trip. Her mother was re-less and the girl would not leave her until she had been quieted. You were impatient to be off. You gave

Miss Brook a sleeping potion that would act instantly. In your eagerness you gave her too much and it killed her. The nurse in the case, who is bound to you by certain ties which, since Miss Brook's arrival here, have become failing to you, knew that you had given the medicine that resulted fatally. You pled with her to say nothing to any one, especially she might make would involve her as well as yourself,

and—"

W LINCOLN FINISHED AND COVERED TRACKS

History of Strange Affair on Old Indian Trail.

When Warren J. Lincoln disappeared from his home on the little farm with greenhouses and his flower beds, a mystery was given a mystery that lasted months and ten days. When he suddenly reappeared on Jan. 10 with his strange story of having been kidnapped and forced by his wife and her brother, Byron L. Shoup, to join a ring of dope smugglers, there was another mystery, although the police were inclined to doubt his extravagant tale.

Everything in Lincoln's home, around the farm, and in the flower beds on the day of the disappearance had seemed to point to murder. Suspicion had at once fastened itself upon Mrs. Lina Lincoln and her brother, Byron L. Shoup. When Shoup's brother, had notified the police of the disappearance. He told at the same time of bad blood between Lincoln and his brother-in-law and of Mrs. Lincoln's alleged attempts to poison her husband.

What Signs Pointed.
Indications were that the eccentric lawyer, who turned horticulturist, had been struck over the head as he slept from an open window by the falling of a brick from the roof of the house. Bloodstains left a trail indicating that the body had been dragged into one of the houses, where a fierce struggle appeared to have taken place.

In one of the flower beds was a crimson pool, the soft earth of the bed was broken up, and the imprint of a woman's shoe was found in the mud along with it.

Along that section known as the "Old Indian Trail," on which the little house is located, the "Lovers' Lane," many of Lincoln's personal effects were found. These were scattered along what was presumed to be the route the body was dragged in haste. They left a trail to an abandoned well, an eighth of a mile from Lincoln's house.

What Well Told.
In the well were found Lincoln's nightgown, a white shirt and a pair of socks. The nightgown was torn and ripped, and the shirt was stained with blood. The socks were found in the mud. The well was found to be a well-known place.

Among the articles found along the road to the well were some cards bearing this inscription: "Mrs. Lina Lincoln, private detective, criminal cases a specialty." Edward Lincoln told the police he believed his brother had employed detectives to watch his wife.

The stories of Edward Lincoln and Warren Lincoln's son, John, 36, were that Lincoln several times had been beaten by Mrs. Lincoln and by Byron Shoup, her brother, and that Mrs. Lincoln also had several times attempted to poison her husband. Lincoln had used his wife for divorce.

Ellis That Lincoln Lived.
From time to time after the disappearance came events which led the police to believe that Lincoln might be alive. Once there came an anonymous letter to THE TRIBUNE. Again there were inserted advertisements indicating that Mrs. Lincoln and Shoup had simply gone away and that Lincoln might be seeking them.

The anonymous letter to THE TRIBUNE told in detail how Lincoln had been lured to Chicago by a woman, entrapped here and threatened with blackmail and large alimony. It stated that Lincoln had been seen in Buffalo, N. Y.

And so matters dragged on until suddenly Lincoln reappeared with a weird story of how his wife and brother-in-law had come to his home in the night and kidnapped him—and with that slowly came the suspicion that all was not as it had been made to appear.

Discrepancies in Story.
All the evidence had pointed to Lincoln's murder. The trail to the well was so plain as to have been purposely left to create a theory. Lincoln was supposed to have been taken away in the night, yet when he reappeared he had on an old suit of clothes. He had

WHY THE SHERIFF COULDN'T SERVE PAPERS ON SHOUP

Deputy sheriffs of Kane and Logan counties now know why they were unable to get service upon Mrs. Lina Lincoln and her brother, Byron Shoup, after Warren J. Lincoln had filed suits against them.

Last March he entered a divorce bill at Geneva, charging Mrs. Lincoln with cruelty. Kane county deputy sheriffs, bearing notices of the suit, searched in vain for her. When they appealed to Lincoln for assistance he would say:

"I have no idea where she is. She went away after we quarreled. Then last summer he filed a $10,000 damage suit against Shoup at Lincoln, Ill., the Logan county seat. His brother-in-law was charged with assault, but despite his inability to get service on him.

The explanation came yesterday, when Lincoln admitted that he killed his wife last January after, so he said, she had murdered Shoup. The suits, he said, were filed merely to divert suspicion.

An old pocketknife also when he came back, but this he explained by saying his wife or Shoup had given it to him. Lincoln returned to his home and greenhouses and the Aurora authorities, let the matter drop. When Shoup and Mrs. Lincoln remained away it was supposed that it was because they feared prosecution by Lincoln.

He Disappears Again.
Then on Oct. 29 Lincoln again dropped out of sight. His second disappearance was as mysterious as the first. But it did not create such a furor. Police took the news casually. "He'll return," they said.

On Dec. 1 a check payable to Byron Shoup turned up at an Aurora bank. And shortly thereafter Mrs. Lincoln's sister in Mount Pleasant, Ill., received a letter, presumably from Mrs. Lina Lincoln. It was written on a type writer and asked for money. The writer directed that the money be sent care general delivery, Evanston.

The money was sent. Then came a second letter, also asking for money. This time the sister, desirous of seeing Mrs. Lincoln, asked someone to justify the message she had received, went to Evanston.

Sister of Wife Seen Lincoln.
There she waited in the postoffice. But Mrs. Lincoln did not appear. Lincoln did. This sister, who had entered the postoffice then hastily left. She notified the Aurora police and they began a search for Lincoln.

The search resulted in his arrest in Chicago last Saturday.

PRINCE OF WALES BUYS STOCK OF U. S. JAZZ MUSIC

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
PARIS, Jan. 13.—[Tribune Radio.]—The Prince of Wales departed for London this afternoon with eight trunks bulging with gifts for friends in England. The prince, accompanied by his wife, the princess, and other appropriate presents for women friends constituted most of the gifts.

But what the prince prized most is a collection of the latest popular music direct from America, which he obtained from Negro jazz band musicians in various Montmartre dancing places. Owing to the strict English law restrictions American jazz orchestras are practically barred in order to give the job to Englishmen, so the prince is unable to hear real Yankee jazz and got the latest New York songs in London. The prince gave heart pins and cigarette cases to two colored jazz band leaders here and a sapphire brooch to a colored girl singer who sang plantation melodies.

Before leaving the Prince of Wales donated $1,000 about $4,000 to the flood victims and while here he gave 1,000 autographs, despite the fact that he was incognito.

LETTERS BARE LINCOLN TRICK TO FRAME ALIBI

Missive Asking Money Sent to Wife's Kin.

An unmailed letter written by John Lincoln, the son of Warren J. Lincoln, to his stepmother's brother, Ralph Shoup, at Mount Pleasant, was found in the Lincoln home at the time Lincoln disappeared. It was written on the same green ribboned typewriter on which the elder Lincoln typed his business communications and bore a date, which, although slightly blurred, appeared to be Jan. 10, 1923.

It was intended, it now appears, as part of the elder Lincoln's alibi. In fact, John, the son, said his father dictated the letter. It reads:

"Dear sir: I want to say to you that I am going to get even with you some day for writing to your brother here and saying the unkind things you said about me. I am hard boiled while I was at Mount Pleasant. Both your brother and your sister showed the letter to my father and told him that that was what people thought of me, and my stepmother continually nagged my father about me being at my sister's until they had a fuss and my father said he had grounds for divorce and was going to obtain one."

Beat Up Father.
"Afterwards my father saw her put some headache capsules in his coat and he refused to drink it and was going to take it downtown and have it looked after. Byron took it away from him and poured it into the sink and they had a fight. Byron beat up my father something awful and he is under a doctor's care and does not distinctly remember from one day to the next just what he did the day before. If he dies or loses his mind, some one is going to pay, and pay dear, I tell you."

"Of course they left right away, but he will find them some day. Your brother, the big chief, drove a vegetable wagon for the farm last fall and father kept a check on the loads and he was always short on his returns. He is so stingy that he would steal but he will pay this all back, too. I tell you your fault, as your letter started the trouble afresh. Yours,

"JOHN LINCOLN."

Letter Asking Money.
Another of the elaborate alibi built up by W. J. Lincoln for the ostensible purpose of showing that his wife and brother-in-law, Byron Shoup, were still living, was his writing of a letter to one of Mrs. Lincoln's brothers, Frank Shoup, at Lincoln, Ill.

The letter was mailed at Evanston, Ill. It requested the sum of $500 on the plea that Byron Shoup, one of the alleged murder victims, was in a hospital suffering from an automobile accident, and was signed "L." meaning Mrs. Lincoln, whose first name was Lina.

This letter was followed by similar missives.

"He got both legs broken in an auto smashup a little over two weeks ago and has been in bad shape in a hospital here," the letter read. "I am better now and we want to move him Monday. Been selling real estate for a firm here and am bookkeeper in same place. Working right under their noses, they know us. I thought we were lost when accident happened, as they printed pictures, but he had a beard and you would never know him."

Have Money in Bank.
"We have plenty of money in bank in Chicago, but it is under another name than the one he is under in hospital, and we cannot fool the nurses. I fear. Have about $1,200 there, but I am out of money here, and the doctors and hospital must be paid before we can move him. Will go by auto and you will receive tele."

CORPUS DELICTI POINT RAISED IN AURORA CASE

McEwen Talks on the Luettger Trial.

"That base of criminal prosecution careers, corpus delicti, may be up to confound the state in its case against Warren J. Lincoln, self-confessed slayer of his wife. It has been well settled in courts that a confession in itself is not sufficient to gain a conviction.

"If Lincoln's statement is to be credited, the bodies of the murder victims were cremated in a furnace. The ashes, it was said, were carried away and buried.

While this fact, attorneys agreed last night, will disturb the prosecution, it does not necessarily constitute an insurmountable obstacle. Because the lawyers said, the corpus delicti may be established on circumstantial evidence—if the evidence is sufficiently compelling.

McEwen Discusses Point.
The operation of the corpus delicti provision was discussed in an interview last night by former Judge William M. McEwen, generally conceded to be an authority on the subject. McEwen was one of the prosecutors in the notorious Luettger murder trial, which took place in 1917.

Mrs. Louise L. Luettger, wife of Adolph Luettger, owner of a sausage factory at Diversey street and West Hermitage avenue, suddenly disappeared. The husband was arrested, but no trace of the wife, dead or alive, could be found for a time.

But in a steam vat in the basement of the factory two gold rings, four small bones, identified as those of a human foot, were discovered. One of the bones was the sesamoid bone from under the great toe of the foot. This bone is only fully developed in adults, and the human sesamoid is distinctive. It was shown Luettger had spent four hours turning steam into the vat the night of his wife's disappearance.

The deduction was he had disintegrated her body in a strong solution of potassium hydrate, the active principle of lye. Shortly before the murder he had put chased a large quantity of this powerful alkali, for which he had no practical use in making or curing sausage.

Recalls Seemingly Bone.
"In the Luettger case," said Mr. McEwen, "we were able to establish corpus delicti by producing a portion of the body, but even without the human bones, the rings and Luettger's behavior the night of the murder gave us a strong circumstantial case."

"Corpus delicti" may be liberally translated to mean "the body dead by unlawful means." To satisfy this provision it is not always necessary to produce the body or any portion of it. If, for instance, it can be proved that a man was in existence, that he disappeared under circumstances suggesting murder, and if the circumstantial evidence points with sufficient directness toward the accused, corpus delicti may be established.

"While I am not informed as to the evidence in the Lincoln case, it seems probable that, supplemented by the man's confession, it will be enough to meet corpus delicti requirements, even if no traces of the bodies are found."

'Seized on Suspicion,' Man Dies Following 'Frost Bite'

While the weather bureau was announcing more snow as likely today and predicting a slowly rising thermometer for tomorrow, the coroner's office last night recorded one more victim of cold. He was William Hunt of 1947 South State street, who died at the county hospital after his hands and feet had been frozen. He was taken to the hospital following his arrest Saturday night "on suspicion."

VIENNA BRIDE, 22, WON'T EVEN KISS HER JANITOR, 59

And He Spent $1,000 for an Imported Wife!

Richard Raikes Dodson walked into the First precinct police station yesterday and called aside Policemen Billy Haas and Steve Luddy.

"My bride," he said, "won't even kiss me. And I spent $1,000 importing her from Vienna and married her only last Wednesday. What shall I do?"

Richard is 59 and Stephanie Barish Dodson—the bride—is 22. One look at Richard's photo, two looks at the check he sent for transportation, and Stephanie had rushed to America. She had even carried out her agreement to be married to him in New York, but hugs and kisses—No, no!

So while Richard was seeking police aid, she was charging him with disorderly conduct, and the whole affair will be aired in the court of domestic relations today.

A Janitor Now, but Once—
Richard is a janitor in Beloit, Wis. Once he was the Beau Brummel of Belgium, with wealth, position and ancestors. Then Monte Carlo took his $100,000 inheritance.

While waiting in Beloit he found stamp collecting an interesting sideline until he began exchanging stamps with Prof. Ludwig Mahler, teacher of languages in Vienna.

"I knew a beautiful girl who wishes an American husband," wrote the professor one day.

Richard promptly applied and sent his photo. It was taken a few years ago, he says; fifteen years ago Stephanie charges. Following the photo there were endearing letters. "I count the days until I am your loving wife," wrote Stephanie. Richard sent $750 for transportation.

Off to Meet His Bride.
Then he brushed his grizzled mustache, bought a sport model overcoat with a fur collar, and hopped the Twentieth Century for New York. In his pocket he proudly carried a health certificate from a Beloit physician.

When Stephanie, 22, stepped off the steamer George Washington she took one look at Richard, 59.

"Himmel!" she cried. "I thought he was a young man!"

But I didn't want to go back to Vienna, so I was married to him," she explained last night.

Following the marriage Richard escorted her to the best hotel in the Roaring Forties.

"But," he said, "she wouldn't even let me kiss her good night. It cost me $1,000 to get her, when all expenses are figured."

Does He Love Her? Is He Blind?
"Do you love her?" he was asked. "Am I blind?" he replied. "Look at her."

"Do I love him?" said the bride. "I'd jump on the lake first. I want to get a divorce and go to work."

"She made a sucker of me, and now she wants to go to Warsaw, Ill., and marry a professor," countered Richard. "Warsaw's no better than Beloit!"

PRESIDENT AND WIFE PAY VISIT TO NEGRO VALET

Washington, D. C., Jan. 13.—Negro residents of the northwest section of Washington got the thrill that comes only once in a lifetime today when President and Mrs. Coolidge went calling in their midst. The call was made on Arthur Brooks, Negro valet to Presidents since the Taft administration, who has been confined to his home for several weeks by illness.

Stepping into his automobile after attending church services, Mr. Coolidge asked to be driven to Brooks's home. Great excitement prevailed in the vicinity of the home when a big car bearing the White House coat of arms drew up at one of the modest red brick homes there and the word was flashed up and down the block that the President and his wife were visiting one of their number.

Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge spent about fifteen minutes with Brooks, expressing their hopes for his recovery, and receiving his thanks for the flowers which have been sent him from the White House conservatories during his illness.

BOYS CUT SEATS; HARBED.
Three boys were booked for disorderly conduct last night after cutting up the seats in the West Endwood theater with pocket knives.

M'ANDREW TURNS DOWN TITLE 'DR.'; UNDEMOCRATIC

Amused by Academic Trails of Degrees.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

New York, Jan. 13.—(Special.)—William McAndrew, the schoolmaster, who looks much like Curly might have looked if dyspepsia had not murred his features and disposition, seems to be a fundamentalist when it comes to old-fashioned ideas of democracy, although in matters pedagogic and educational he is strictly modernist.

We had just up the last vestige of the clubhouse steak when something bobbed up in the table talk that threw rather an illuminating light on the man who is to become head of Chicago's public schools Feb. 1. It had to do with the title "Dr." with which many well-meaning persons have embellished his name, and it looked like an interesting discussion about the alphabetical degrees which the learned love to kiff behind their names.

It seems that the University of Michigan, his alma mater, some time ago bestowed a doctorate upon the school man which would have entitled him to add himself up with a gown and a hood with a colored lining. But McAndrew declined to do so, as he is a doctor to accept it and he insists on being called plain "Master."

Why Call a Teacher a "Dr.?" The matter of "Dr. vs Mr." cropped up quite casually in the early conversation, and it looked like an interesting lead, but any question concerning the rejected degree failed to get a rise until towards the end, when Mr. McAndrew seemed to see a physician should be called a doctor because he is one, he remarked: "But why should a school teacher be called a doctor? This award of doctorates among the educational systems of nations that had aristocracies and nobilities. But we are a democracy. The people have entrusted democracy to the care of the schools, and the duty of the schools is to support the democracy which seems reasonable enough. The founders put into the constitution 'No title of nobility shall be granted by the United States.'

Thinker Spoke Out of Date. "They also forbade any title of any kind whatever from any kind, prince, or foreign state. I have given much study to the question of American equality, and I have been unable to find why the highest grades of the educational system which was designed to promote equality and to break down artificial distinctions among men should still cling to this granting of titles, which is an imitation of ceremonial courts.

"Look over the catalogues of the state universities and see what strings of titles trailing the names of the faculties. Charles Smith, LL.D., LL.D., M.D., Ph.D., M.A., Mus. Doc. It reminds me of a laundry list used in work in these men are elected to serve the people, and some of them enter office without many of these furbelows. But before the next list is printed a shower of academic confetti is sprinkled over them, from heaven knows where.

Why Not "Knight" Them. "What would be the difference between calling myself 'Sir William' and saying myself 'Dr. McAndrew'? Our democratic fathers did away with the outward distinctions that mark the superiority of men. The black gown is coming back into the courts. Some may feel more respect for a judge in robes. Who does? The men who started our government took away the trappings of governors and other civil officials. How comes it that the highest agent of the educational system on which they counted to foster democratic simplicity will do himself up like a Christmas tree, with a turreted confection on his head and a medieval robe hooded with ermine and stashed with yellow and blue.

The schoolmaster took on a reminiscent look, and he burst into a hearty laugh.

DEMOCRATS MAY MEET IN CITY OF McADOO'S CHOICE

Chicago and St. Louis Lead for Convention.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 13.—(Special.)—With William G. McAdoo's candidacy for President a factor in almost every question to be decided, members of the Democratic national committee began gathering today for the meeting which will name the time and place at which the national convention will be held.

The choice of the convention city has narrowed apparently to Chicago and St. Louis. New York is generally regarded as out of the running on account of the opposition of McAdoo and his followers, Bryan and the other days who view with alarm the holding of the convention amid anti-Velsteadian and Wall street influences.

Ready to Fight for Chicago.

George Brennan, Democratic leader in Illinois; Charles Boeckelman, Illinois national committeeman; B. N. Hurley and Controller Martin O'Brien reached Washington today and the vanguard of the contingent headed by Mayor Dewey, due tomorrow, which will endeavor to land the convention for Chicago. Fred Upham, treasurer of the Republican national committee, also is on hand to assist in this enterprise, having made available to the Chicago Democrats the $125,000 subscribed by Chicago business men for the expenses of the Republican convention before the Coolidge campaign managers intervened to send the Republican meeting to Cleveland.

There is a large delegation here from St. Louis, headed by Mayor Kiel, James E. Smith and Bennett Clark, son of the late Champ Clark, which has raised $100,000, but is offering to raise the amount to match Chicago.

Convention City Up to McAdoo.

More than a majority of the committee, composed of fifty-three men and fifty-three women, are supporters of Mr. McAdoo, and at first glance it would seem that the convention will be held wherever the McAdoo managers desire. It is apparent, however, that while the McAdoo forces can defeat New York they are not strong enough to force the selection of San Francisco, which therefore has become only a nominal consideration.

Some McAdoo committeemen are strongly opposed to Chicago, fearing the influences on the convention of an environment dominated by Mr. Brennan and associated opponents of the former secretary of the treasury. St. Louis, however, offers no great preference in this respect. National Committeeman Gottis of Missouri is a McAdoo man but it looks as if the delegation might be for Senator Reed (Dem., Mo.), and in that event the local influence would be distinctly anti-McAdoo.

Looks Bright for Chicago.

While a majority of the committee is composed of McAdoo supporters, Mr. Brennan believes that only a minority is opposed to Chicago. He has pledged to vote for Chicago from numerous western McAdoo members, who believe the convention facilities of that city are superior to those of

(Copyright, 1934, By The Chicago Tribune.)

St. Louis, and are not frightened by the antagonism of the Brennan organization to the nomination of their leader.

"I am convinced that we have the votes to give Chicago the convention," Mr. Brennan said tonight.

Norman Mack, national committeeman for New York, is no less confident that he will land the convention for New York City. He says that New York will pay the expenses of the convention and contribute $125,000 to the Democratic committee's war chest in addition. If the convention is auctioned off, as it has been frequently, the New Yorkers do not see how they can lose.

Question of Campaign Fund.

Mr. Brennan says Chicago will pay the expenses of the convention, but none of the $125,000 Chicago fund is to be used as a campaign contribution. If the convention is held in Chicago the Democrats of Illinois, Mr. Brennan says, will make a liberal contribution to the campaign fund afterward.

Some of the McAdoo crowd want to abolish the rule requiring a two-thirds majority of the convention to nominate. They think McAdoo can command a majority, but fear the opposition can prevent him from getting two-thirds.

By these committeemen it is proposed that the national committee recommend the change in the rules and a resolution to this effect will be offered.

YOUTH SHOT AS HE FORCES WAY TO EX-FIANCEE

Louis Arado, 23 years old, was shot and dangerously wounded yesterday afternoon when he insisted upon seeing his former fiancée after word had been given to him that she was "out." Police of the Lawndale station are holding Orville Roman, 217 South Turner avenue. The shooting took place in his home, where 36 year old Eleanor Sturt had gone to visit his daughter Mary in order to escape Arado's attentions.

Arado lives at 219 South Lombard avenue, Oak Park, while Miss Sturt's home is at 1994 Roman avenue. They had been acquainted for several years, and some time ago Arado gave her a diamond ring.

Sturt's quarrel followed the engagement, however, according to the police. Miss Sturt announced that there would be no marriage, and on Saturday Arado told her there must either be a reconciliation or she would have to return the ring.

"I hope Louis recovers," said Miss Sturt after she had been questioned at the Lawndale station.

INJURED KILL WORKER.

Brown Hart, colored, of 125 East 57th street, died in heavy hospital yesterday of injuries sustained last week while he was at work in the Bradley-Vernon Paint company plant at 822 South Dearborn street.

Somebody Invented Sundae

Sundae isn't a thing that just happened. Some clever mind invented it. That's sure. And we want to know who it was. Bring him forward and we'll give him a hundred dollars in gold. And we'll give you all the Hydrox Ice Cream Sundae you can eat for a year for discovering him.

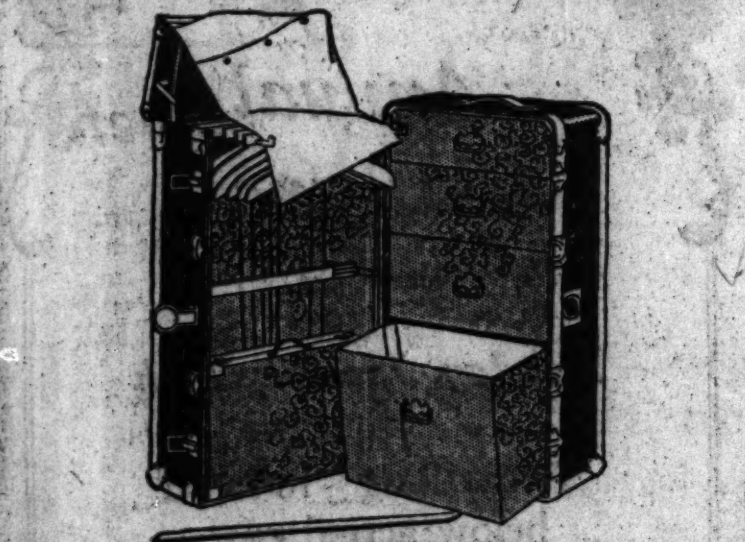

If we get any clues ourselves, we are going to slip them secretly to all of our 2,000 dealers. So you keep in touch with them and see what they know. A whole year full of Hydrox Ice Cream Sundae is worth having.

TAKES POISON, TELLS DIVORCED WIFE BY PHONE

George Hunt, who gave a false address to the police, took poison yesterday, then telephoned to his former wife, from whom he was divorced about a month ago.

The police, notified by Mrs. Hunt, found his home in the office of the Lorraine corporation, 341 East Ohio street. He was employed there as purchasing agent. At the Passavant hospital physicians said he would live.

AUTO COLLISION DEALS DEATH TO CHILD AGED SIX

Two deaths owing to automobile accidents yesterday raised the toll in Cook county since Jan. 1 to nineteen. Six-year old Raymond Steinberg of 734 South California avenue was killed last night as a result of a collision between automobiles at Ashland and Montrose avenues.

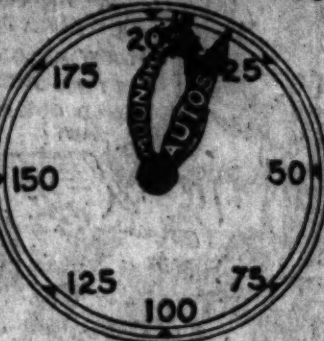

Raymond was riding with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Steinberg, and the latter's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. William Fitzgerald. As their car, proceeding south on Ashland avenue, was crossing Montrose it was struck by a machine driven by Frank Depner of 3222 North Robey street. The occupants of both automobiles were taken to the Montrose Avenue hospital. After minor injuries had been dressed Depner was locked up in the North Robey street police station pending an inquest today.

A. F. Lance, 59 years old, of 6534 South Green street, died of a stroke of paralysis sustained as a result of an automobile accident on Jan. 4.

Mrs. George Humbert, 6154 St. Lawrence avenue, was injured when the automobile in which she was riding was demolished in a collision with a street car.

BRITAIN DEFIES FRANCE; BEGINS RHINE INQUIRY

Consul at Munich Goes to Palatinate.

BY JOHN CLAYTON.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
BERLIN, Jan. 13.—(Tribune Radio.)—Despite French protests, the British investigation of conditions surrounding the separation movement in the Palatinate will commence tomorrow. The British consul, Mr. Clive, left Munich tonight for Heidelberg, where he will meet a number of Germans expelled from Spayer, Kaiserslautern, and other Palatinate towns by the separatists and French troops, who are supporting the so-called government.

Mr. Clive will then go to Speyer to conduct a detailed investigation. He will report his findings to Lord Ellsmere, British member of the international Rhine commission, at Coblenz.

Mr. Clive's trip causes great interest in Berlin, where government officials are confident that the true conditions under which the separatist state was set up will come to light through the British investigation. The German charges against the French troops will be thoroughly sifted, it is believed. The Germans have protested against the presence of thousands of colored troops in the Palatinate.

Allied Spies Greased.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
PARIS, Jan. 13.—(Tribune Radio.)—Franco-British feeling over the investigation of the separatist movement in the Palatinate, already tense, was strained almost to the snapping point this morning when Ambassador Cresswell and a long interview with Premier Poincaré.

It was announced later that both sides maintain their original view points. The British insist that they wish to send an official representative to the Palatinate to make an exhaustive inquiry without hindrance or interference by anybody else. The French insist the occupied zone is an international question and any investigation must be international. Furthermore, Lord Curzon's proposal to send an English official alone to investigate the conduct of the French military or organization in the zone occupied by the French army is considered impossible.

Experts Start Work Today.
The expert committee which will investigate Germany's capacity to pay will be officially organized by the reparations commission tomorrow morning. Louis Barthou will confer the chairmanship on Gen. Charles G. Dawes.

Fall to Find Assassins.
SPYER, Bavaria, Jan. 13.—(By the Associated Press.)—The unidentified assassin who killed Herr Heinke, president of the autonomous government of the Palatinate, and other separatist leaders, are believed to have succeeded in reaching unoccupied Germany. All traces of them have been lost.

In the confusion after the shooting of the separatist in a restaurant, several French officers who occupied tables made a hasty exit, leaving their coats and hats behind. It is thought the assassins slipped the French uniforms, thereby preventing subsequent identification.

Germany Fails to Find Man for Ambassador to France.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
BERLIN, Jan. 13.—(Tribune Radio.)—Foreign Minister Stresemann is unable to find an ambassador for Paris. Every man proposed from the old diplomatic corps has been refused by the French, while Chargé d'Affaires von Hoesch, because of his youth, is unsuitable to the German foreign office. Herr Stresemann is now seeking an industrial leader as envoy.

SMART COATS FOR MIDWINTER

Are Now Remarkably Low in Price $67.50 $87.50 $110 $125 up

NOT only have reduced prices been placed on practically all Coats bought earlier in the season, but new collections which have arrived very recently are specially priced. So you will be sure of finding exactly what you need for various occasions, and the price will be gratifyingly low.

With and Without Fur

For general wear there are many smart styles in deep piled fabrics, both with and without fur. There are others of casual cloth; tweeds, plaids and stripes for motoring or traveling, as well as a fascinating group of Coats and Wraps for evening wear.

Women's Coats and Wraps—Second Floor, North Side

Cotton Fabrics Represent New Tendencies in Design

Recent Importations Have Come from Europe

THE very first indication of new style tendencies comes with the arrival of new Fabrics embodying the designs and colors which will have so much to do with shaping the characteristics of the mode as the season progresses.

Cottons and Linens have very recently been received from Europe, and seem even more delightful than ever.

New Crepes from "Liberty's" are printed in pastel and brilliant color combinations, in effects produced only by these well-known London manufacturers. $4.50 to $6.50 the yard.

Ratone in plain heather mixtures and fancy effects come from both France and England. $1, $1.50 and $2.50 the yard.

Embroidered Linen in eyelet designs is suitable for making dresses or coats. $4 and $5.

A full range of plain colors to match the embroidered fabrics is carried at all times.

Second Floor, South Side

Chiffons and Georgettes Which Accompany the New Year

Are Printed in Fascinating Designs

THE beauty of the new Chiffons and Georgettes is as much to be attributed to the way in which they are printed as to the lovely textures of the fabrics themselves. They are flowered in multi-colored tints; or in conventional and very brilliant designs they resemble the draperies used in so many modern stage settings of the Russian or Viennese school. And, by the perfected process of printing, they are amazingly like the finest of hand-blocked materials.

Notes on the New Millinery

Which is Destined for Semi-tropical Backgrounds

In our Debutante Section is a complete and most vivid collection of advanced Hats suitable for southern wear. Those of plaided georgette crepe are typically of the spring in cinnamon, canna, beige, and gray. Other particularly interesting Hats are those of embroidered crepes. Prices range from $20 to $35.

The Hat sketched left is a stunning cloche model in a combination of black satin and crepe.

From the French Section are smart Hats in georgette crepe, satin, and taffeta in black, cinnamon, gray, tomato, and wood shades—and sunlight green embroidered semi-mushroom models for immediate wear. These are from $25 to $35. The Hat sketched right is of black satin trimmed with plaided moire ribbon and bob ornament.

Linen Talks

By Prominent Chicagoans

In the Linen Room

Second Floor

Today at 11:30

Mrs. Jessie Orie Donahue—Society Editor of the Daily News will tell about "Table Appointments" used in the homes of well-known Chicago society women.

Tomorrow at 11:30

Prof. James W. Thompson of the Department of Medieval History at the University of Chicago will talk on "The Romance of the Linen Trade." He is considered one of the most fascinating and magnetic speakers at the University.

Notes on New Styles

Enter the Jabot

Jabots, like himey, represent themselves—and this season they are at the height of vogue again. Sometimes they journey the entire length of a frock from neckline to hem to gain their frilly ends.

Custom Room—Fourth Floor

75% Length; 100% Color

The three-quarter Sports Coat is undeniably to be favored—especially when made of the gayest and most colorful fabrics.

Custom Apparel—Ninth Floor

Flowered Prints

—both on cotton and silk fabrics announce the coming of Spring. The posies on light and dark grounds are very gay and feminine.

Misses' Dress—Sixth Floor

Flannels for Sports

The light flannel frock has identified itself brightly and gaily with sports apparel—and will appear with flower brilliance on sunny golf greens.

Spots Apparel—Sixth Floor

Colors Tryst with Spring

The first mention-worthy shade and one that is wholly of the Spring is Fan green. All the rich sunny yellows, too, are used in abundance; and much, a rare tone of brown, and brick dust are likewise popular.

Dyed for a Good Cause

Lace will dye for a good cause—and there is none better than that of joining the colors of a smart frock. This is demonstrated by two Misses' Frocks, one of yellow and one of rose crepe—and in each case the lace dyed to match.

Misses' Dress—Sixth Floor

No Compromise on Sleeves

—they are either strongly no sleeves at all or else they are very long. It is interesting that three-piece sports Suits have transferred their loyalty to the "No Sleeve" school of designing.

The Between-Season Mode Brings Frocks in Lighter Wools

THE mode between seasons is not by any means, as the name might imply, a less important affair than the mode which is definitely identified with one season or another. It has certain characteristics of its own, drawn partly from winter and partly from spring, which are as smart as they are distinctive.

For example, it now presents Frocks in the light-weight wools, of delightful texture and finish, indicating in their lines and trimming the fashion for spring.

Above at the left is one of charmeuse in navy, with diagonal tiers on the skirt, and moire tinsel ribbon in two colors on the collar and sleeves. Price, $125. The other is of woolrepp in rosewood, buck or seaweed green, at $115.

CHICAGO TOPICS The Field Museum Of Natural History

THIS fascinating institution, with its wealth of treasure that tells the story of mankind, and its renowned botanical, zoological and geological exhibits, is near the center of the city and readily accessible. On one Sunday alone 29,000 visited it.

The Museum is not only a mecca for teachers and students. Through it artists and designers find information and inspiration for their creative work. It sends traveling exhibits to public schools and other educational centers; it finances expeditions for research in unprobed regions; it conducts lectures and motion pictures to popularize science and exploration. Seven thousand school children recently viewed the motion picture of an African hunting expedition.

The Museum is now inviting memberships to help augment its income. Chicago contains no worthier object for civic support. Residents may take a life membership, or, for a nominal sum, an annual membership.

MILK PRODUCERS PLAN TWO BLOWS TO AID STRIKE

Seek Inquiry by Small;
May Ask Writ.

Official action from two sources was planned yesterday by milk producers and their allies as the next move in the milk strike. Lake county producers took steps to have Gov. Small order a special investigation of the situation and may send a delegation to Springfield to make a plea for the inquiry. A "citizens' committee," said to be made up largely of producers and their friends, expects to go into court today with mandamus proceedings against Health Commissioner Herman N. Bundesen.

The mandamus, it is thought, will be to compel Dr. Bundesen to turn over a list of all places sending milk to Chicago, so that the producers may know what farmers are violating the strike order by selling their product.

Bundesen Refuses Names.
"The producers have attempted to obtain the names of the plants supplying milk," Dr. Bundesen explained. "I refused to give them because it would mean picking out the plants and possible violence. I am not interested in who wins the strike, but I don't intend to lay myself open to charges of peddling information to either side. The distributors gave me the names so I could have the milk inspected."

"I am willing to let any reputable and disinterested party have the names and inspect the milk, but I can't give away a strike information given me confidentially by the other side."

Dr. Bundesen, answering charges of the producers that impure milk was coming into the city, issued orders that inspectors must remain on duty at every pasteurizing plant twenty-four hours a day to see that the pasteurization is properly conducted.

Strike Crisis Nearing.
With the carrying out of the commission's order that milk must come only from the inspected areas, the crisis in the milk strike is expected to come within the next few days.

During the first days of the tie-up, thousands of gallons of milk were brought from as far away as Detroit and Cleveland, but these and other cities are not in the Chicago area and have been barred. Dealers claim they can't get enough milk from the Chicago area, explaining many producers are not obeying the strike order.

On the other hand Frank T. Fowler, spokesman for the producers, said there were milk had been shut off during the twenty-four hours ending at 7 o'clock last night than at any time since the beginning of the strike. He declared that McHenry county producers had agreed to stand firm, as had others in Illinois and Wisconsin. Producers in Indiana have given their word to use shipments. President Frank T. said.

PEELS AND BOBS MERCHANT.
Charles Leche, proprietor of a delicatessen at 1500 Open avenue, was robbed in his store yesterday by a thief, who took him on the head with a blacked-

'HUGHES LETTER' WARNS CHINA TO CRUSH ANARCHY

Demands Protection of Americans.
BY JOHN POWELL.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(Copyright, 1924, by The Chicago Tribune.)

SHANGHAI, Jan. 13.—Chinese and foreign papers have given prominence to a letter published anonymously, but said to have been written by Secretary of State Hughes. After summarizing the benefits of the Washington conference at which hope was entertained that China would rise to the occasion, the letter expresses deep disappointment with the Chinese failure to respond, and hints at a modification of the American policy owing to the general breakdown of governmental authority.

The letter got into the papers here through a member of the Republican national committee, who sent same to his brother, who is engaged in missionary work in China.

"A Great Disappointment."

The letter's reference to the recent breakdown of the Chinese government says: "China is a great disappointment to those who had hoped that a small measure of opportunity for independence and development would hasten the evolution of a more normal and orderly international administration in China and make possible the establishment of governmental entities, capable of fulfilling international obligations co-relative to the rights of sovereignty which the conference recognized and sought to safeguard."

"The recent murder and kidnapping of American citizens, bandit outrages, and the unsatisfactory character of the protective measures taken by the Chinese are merely examples of the fact that the present unfortunate political disintegration of China involves the failure of appreciation on the part of Chinese officials of their responsibility respecting the legitimate rights of Americans and foreigners."

Default on Loans.
Then, after referring to China's defaults on loans and other financial obligations, the letter says:

"There has been a breakdown of government and a weakening of sense of responsibility on the part of officials which Americans cannot but regard with the utmost anxiety, as constituting a danger not only to just treaty rights and interests as a nation, but even the personal safety of our citizens residing in China. Under the circumstances, our policy has had to take into consideration the situation which has developed in China, and nothing but duty compels us in the interest of our own citizens and also of China herself to hold the Chinese government as rigorously as possible to the complete fulfillment of its foreign obligations, which is necessary to the China's place in the family of nations."

"I am confident that the steps which the American government is taking and has in contemplation will prove no less advantageous to the real interests of China, as well as to foreign interests, which we are determined to protect."

SWOOP OF 5 ON DOCTOR IS CLEW TO BANK RAIDERS

Four men availed Dr. S. J. Elmer of 1700 West Grand avenue early yesterday morning and ordered him at the point of a revolver to dress the gunshot wound of a fifth man, whom they had carried from an automobile into the physician's office.

"Never mind what kind of case it is; just go ahead and fix this man up if you don't want trouble," the doctor was commanded. "And never mind about calling the police."

The wound was in the man's right leg. Dr. Elmer told the police. It is believed the five were the men who held up the Brighton Park state bank on Saturday morning, shooting the cashier and two others before making their getaway.

WIFE AND KIDS FINE ALIBI FOR JOE SOMETIME

"Don't send me to jail, judge. My wife and four kids need me to support them," pleaded Joseph Churello, 30, when he was arraigned a week ago for being drunk. Judge Barasa discharged him, but Churello's comrade, Michael Setnick of 437 West Chicago avenue, was sent to the House of Correction.

After bidding Setnick good-by and leaving the courtroom Churello did not appear at his home at 1458 West Erie street. Finally his starving family notified the police. The kindly cops took up a collection to buy food and coal. Then they started search for Churello.

DEMOCRATS FIGHT TAX ON HOUSE

Oppose Compromises, Means Co.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT)
Washington, D. C., Jan. 13.—Democratic members of the House today made a disposition to refuse to compromise on tax rates in the bill and, if possible, force on the floor of the House the Republican member who favors a compromise. The outcome of the committee may be that the house will join in reporting a maximum of 50 per cent, in a minority report, and for a maximum of 25 per cent, as contained in the bill already made public, or willingness to go as low as 10 per cent.

Fear to Oppose Bill
Representative From the single La Follette committee, in expectation of the house dissenting, any reduction in surtax present maximum of 50 per cent. The attitude of several public members of the opposing any compromise the reporting of a bill with a surtax rate of 25 per cent, as recommended by Secretary of Mellon, may result in a majority in favor of a 10 per cent, which was the rate fixed passed by the house in 1913.

Compromise Is L
If the Republican bill maximum surtax rate of 50 per cent and the Democrats 10 per cent or more a compromise at a later stage is possible. Such a compromise between 25 and 40 per cent, as contained in the bill, of the house, in the committee, or on the floor.

The Democrats are expected from the ways and means bill on normal tax rates.

DEMOCRATS MAY FIGHT TAX BILL ON HOUSE FLOOR

Oppose Compromise in Ways, Means Committee

BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.
Washington, D. C., Jan. 13.—[Special.]—Democratic members of the house ways and means committee show a disposition to refuse offers of a compromise on tax rates in order that they may be free to attack the Republican bill and, if possible, force amendments on the floor of the house.

The Republican members of the committee who favor a compromise will not go so far in making concessions as to make it appear that they have accepted the Democratic plan.

The outcome of the controversy in committee may be that the Republicans will join in reporting a bill containing a maximum surtax rate of either 25 or 35 per cent. The Democrats, in a minority report, either will stand for a maximum surtax of 44 per cent, as contained in their tax plan already made public, or will indicate a willingness to go as low as about 40 per cent.

Frear to Oppose Reduction.
Representative Frear (Rep., Wis.), the single La Follette Republican on the committee, is expected to file with the house dissenting views opposing any reduction in surtax rates from the present maximum of 50 per cent.

The attitude of several of the Republican members of the committee in opposing any compromise and favoring the reporting of a bill with a maximum surtax rate of 25 per cent, as recommended by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, may result in a decision by the majority in favor of a 32 per cent rate, which was the rate fixed in the bill as passed by the house in 1922.

Compromise Is Likely.

If the Republican bill includes a maximum surtax rate of 25 per cent or less and the Democrats hold out for 40 per cent or more, a further compromise at a later stage appears inevitable. Such a compromise at some point between 25 and 40 per cent might be forced by an amendment on the floor of the house, in the senate finance committee, or on the floor of the senate.

The Democrats are expected to dissent from the ways and means committee bill on normal tax rates as well as surtaxes.

Nab Doctor and Midwife; Operated on Girl, Charge

Dr. Thomas Ney of 4391 Cottage Grove avenue and Mrs. Belle Nebitt, a midwife living at 416 East 44th street, were taken in custody yesterday on charges of performing an illegal operation on a 23 year old girl, who is in a critical condition in St. Elizabeth's hospital. ## GARIBALDI PARTY GUESTS IN AUTO, ROBBED OF $2,400

Save $12,000 Jewels from Bandits.

(Picture on back page.)

Trailing a limousine bearing guests from a birthday anniversary party in fashionable Astor street, two masked robbers held up the occupants of the car early yesterday morning and escaped with $2,400 in currency and jewelry.

Diamonds valued at $12,000 were saved from the thieves when two women in the party hid them in the cushions of the car.

The victims were Mrs. Theresa C. Garibaldi of 1238 Astor street, widow of John C. Garibaldi of the produce firm of Garibaldi & Cuneo; her son Francis, vice president of the Garibaldi company, wholesale grocers and importers; her daughter, Mrs. Charles Crawford, of 481 Aldine avenue; the latter's husband, Russell N. Crawford, of the insurance firm which bears his name; and Mr. Crawford's mother, Mrs. Samuel N. Crawford of the Melrose apartment hotel.

Pair Held Up Limousine.

The limousine had left the Garibaldi home following the party and had just drawn up in front of Mrs. Crawford's hotel at 481 Melrose street. Two armed men stepped up as Mrs. Crawford was being assisted from the car, commanded one of the men when Mr. Crawford laughing asked them what they meant by their demands.

The robbers took a $1,000 ring, a watch valued at $500, and $100 from him and an $800 diamond ring from his mother.

Hide Jewels Under Seat.

Both bandits appeared extremely nervous, and they disappeared without molesting the women seated in the limousine.

Meanwhile Mrs. Garibaldi had prepared for a search by hiding $2,000 worth of diamonds, while Mrs. Russell Crawford concealed jewels valued at $10,000 under the seat.

Police were asked last night to find Rose Wegman, 19 year old niece of Dr. Louis J. Kan of 851 Margate terrace. The girl, who came recently from her home in Russia, was to have met a friend at Orchestra hall yesterday afternoon. She failed to arrive there.

LOOK AT TEETH TO GAUGE BRAIN, BUNDESEN SAYS

If the youngster's school report card is not satisfactory this month, consult a dentist before applying the rod, or scolding. Defective teeth may be disclosed as the cause of the trouble.

So, at any rate, Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, health commissioner, suggests in a bulletin issued last night. Of 17,000 Chicago school children who had dental defects corrected by the health department, Dr. Bundesen indicates, 70.8 per cent gained in health, 48 per cent improved mentally, and 51 per cent responded with better school attendance.

After citing statistics to show the effect of teeth on mental efficiency, the health bulletin reads:

"Conduct and behavior are influenced by the condition of the teeth. Only 19 per cent of those marked 'superior' had bad teeth, while almost 21 per cent of those graded lower had dental defects."

HOPE TO SEIZE HERMIT SLAYER IN FEW HOURS

Within two days the Cook county police expect to arrest the murderer of Ferdinand Tuga, wealthy hermit farmer, whose frozen body, with two bullet holes in the back, was found Thursday in a corn crib on his farm three miles southwest of Northbrook.

"I am convinced, after a quick investigation, that Tuga's slayer is the same man who has been robbing several farms in the northern part of the county," Lieut. Lester Baird announced. "We expect to take him, as well as his accomplice, within forty-eight hours."

The county police learned through secret sources that Tuga, who held no faith in banks, had hidden $15,000 in cash and currency in his farmhouse. It could not be found.

U.S. AID TO ASK CANCELLING OF HIJACK VERDICT

Assistant District Attorney Edwin L. Wida will ask Federal Judge Adam C. Cline next Friday to set aside the verdict of not guilty in the hoag "hijacking" case involving four policemen of the Dearborn station. The request will be based on evidence that the jury had been tampered with.

This action was determined on following disclosure made Saturday by William Mulvin, one of the jurors, and his alleged sweetheart, Mrs. Mary G. Bernard. Agents of the department of justice were busy yesterday investigating leads furnished by the couple.

Further arrests are expected today in connection with the purported fixing of the acquittal jury.

FLIVVER SQUAD NABS THREE WHO ROB WATCHMAN

A flivver squad from the Dearborn street station happened along early yesterday morning just as three holdup men were leaving the corner of Congress and Sangamon streets with $23 and the revolver of John Corcoran.

"They robbed me," said Corcoran, a night watchman for the Anderson Watch service.

One of the robbers departed and ran down an alley, but was captured by Policeman Kenney. The two others were nabbed by Policemen Sheldon and Harney.

HERRIN, QUIET, EXPECTS TROOPS TO DEPART SOON

Factions Seem Disposed to Back Up Sheriff.

Marion, Ill., Jan. 13.—[Special.]—Troops in Williamson county, called there upon request of Sheriff George Callahan, probably will return to their homes within a few days. This is the opinion of the sheriff, the national guard officers, and the citizens.

Conditions throughout the entire county were good on Saturday night and today. Klan officials have promised aid to the sheriff and the Williamson county board, which has fought him previously since his taking office, through its chairman, Sam Stern, promises cooperation. Federal activity in Williamson county is expected to increase, but without the cooperation of either the sheriff or the Klan.

Where Opinions Differ.
Herrin, Ill., Jan. 13.—[Special.]—Williamson county's lawless element, moonshiners, bootleggers, gamblers, and vice kings, with all their customers and friends, seem happy and contented under military occupation. So far as they are concerned, Col. A. I. Culbertson and his national guardsmen can stay here indefinitely.

The Law and Order league and its allies, who say they want and intend to have right enforcement of the Volstead act and the eighteenth amendment, are chafing under troop restraint. They want to "get ahead of the army" to have a free hand in doing their own law enforcing.

The bootleggers are satisfied with the situation, because all they need guard against apparently is a surprise attack by federal agents or perchance a raid by the sheriff. They are banking on the troops to prevent any more civilian crusades.

The Klan and its allies say the cheapness of Williamson will go on. As Williamson county is dotted with illicit stills and reports that sell the output. The foreigners make their own wine; Americans their moonshine.

YOUNG REACHES CHICAGO.
B. Glenn Young, noted figure in the rum raids at Herrin, arrived in Chicago yesterday with his wife. They came in an auto mounting a machine gun. Young kept two big automatic pistols on the table of his room at the Congress hotel.

He said the sending of troops to Williamson county would wreck the chances of Gov. Len Small with the voters downstate, and denounced the Williamson county officials and W. O. Potter, federal district attorney for

CHICAGO HERO OF WORLD WAR GIVEN U. S. JOB

Washington, D. C., Jan. 13.—[Special.]—Seven years ago James O. Grubb of Chicago was doorman at the Hamilton club, known and liked among the membership for his ready smile and pleasant word of greeting to all. Then war was declared and Grubb went to Texas with the 135th infantry, formerly the 2d Illinois infantry, leaving behind a wife and two children, one of them a 24 hour old baby.

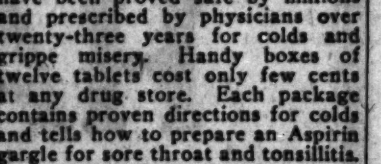

Today Grubb became doorman at the national capital, under a federal patronage appointment arranged by Congressman at Large Henry R. Rathbone, who was president of the Hamilton club when Grubb presided at the door. Grubb was disabled for work at his trade as an automobile mechanic by shrapnel and gas in France, but the ready smile is still there.

Notables Will Speak

Other speakers tomorrow will include Thomas H. MacDonald of Washington, chief of the bureau of public roads; S. L. Squire of Toronto, Ont., deputy minister of highways; E. R. Olbrich of the national research council, Washington; E. F. Kelley, senior highway bridge engineer of the bureau of public roads

TWO CONFESSED SLAYERS OF FIVE ELECTROCUTED

McAlester, Okla., Jan. 13.—[By the Associated Press.]—Jack Pope and Aaron Harvey, confessed murderers of five persons, were electrocuted in the state penitentiary here shortly after midnight this morning.

Harvey nearly collapsed as he was placed in the chair, and sounds of hysterical sobbing issued from under the death mask as the straps securing him to the chair were adjusted. The prison chaplain led him by the hand from the death cell, and Harvey would not allow him to release his grip until he was seated in the instrument of death.

AMERICAN LABOR LEADER WARNS MEXICO REBELS

BULLETIN.
Mexico City, Jan. 13.—The secretary of war tonight announced that Tehuacan was occupied last night by forces of Gen. Martinez without firing a shot. The rebel forces evacuated the town on the approach of the federal troops.

BY FREDERICK WRIGHT.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
Mexico City, Jan. 13.—C. C. David, son, general secretary and treasurer of the machinists' union of the United States, sent the following message through the Mexican embassy in Washington to the Secretary of War Bureau, requesting him to send some by wireless to Adolfo de la Huerta at Vera Cruz:

"Adolfo de la Huerta, Vera Cruz, Mexico: Press dispatches carry reports of the murder of Felipe Carrillo at Puerto and of labor leaders by you. I have received decree 1,820 from Merida issued on Jan. 12, penalizing the labor unions. This action on your part and those of your followers justifies more than ever our full support and that of the government of the United States of the Obregon government. It is our purpose to use every influence possible to assist the Mexican government in obtaining arms and ammunition and prevent shipments of arms and ammunition to your forces from any nation in the world."

[Signed] "C. C. DAVIDSON,"
"General Secretary and Treasurer of the National Association of Machinists," Uprising in Mexico.
The following telegram has been received from the military authorities at Toluca, capital of the state of Mexico:

"The superintendents of the Hacienda Goleto and Tenejco, in the district of Jilotepec, have risen in arms with a number of peons. Volunteers from towns in that region under command of the mayor of Soyaniquilpan immediately attacked them. The superintendents are Spaniards."

DEFEAT REBEL DRIVE

BY JOHN CORRY.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[Copyright: 1924: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Lapaz, Jan. 12.—Gen. Benito Garcia, commander of troops in Pachuca, in a telegram to President Obregon, states that the rebels who tried to enter that town were defeated by his troops. The insurgents lost more than 100 dead and wounded. Gen. Garcia continued to follow the dispersed enemy, but the result is not ascertained.

Shoots Sister's Betrayer

About to Marry Another
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

PERIGUEUX, France, Jan. 13.—Alexander Radowsky, youthful son of a Russian colonel, yesterday shot and killed his sister's betrayer, one of the Russian army, while the latter was sleeping on his wooden bed preparatory to marching to the altar to marry Miss. Perib, 38 year old French beauty. M. Radowsky said he committed the murder in order to avenge the honor of his sister.

CORONER'S JURY TO SIFT ASYLUMS FIRE PREVENTION

Coroner Omer Wolff and four members of the jury investigating the Duquoin asylum fire, in which eighteen persons perished, left for New York yesterday to study prevention measures adopted there as a result of the Ward Island asylum fire of several years ago.

With Coroner Wolff are Maj. Reed Landis, Alexander H. Revelt Jr., Edgar J. Olson, cashier of the Franklin Trust and Savings bank, and George T. Molloy, publisher of the Chicago Woman's Weekly.

Patrick J. Carr, county treasurer, and Eugene Byfield, president of the Sherman Hotel company, also members of the jury, already are in New York.

GROCERY CLERK SLAIN.
Memphis, Tenn., Jan. 13.—John Hooks, 64, was shot to death last night by unknown assailants who entered the grocery store where he was employed as a clerk.

OUTWITTING OUR NERVES

BY JACKSON, M.D., and SALISBURY

"OUTWITTING OUR NERVES" is one of the book prodigies of the publishing world. It is a delightfully written health book based upon the long experience of a regular practicing physician. It has gone through edition after edition. It is prescribed by doctors. It is recommended by surgeons to help patients in convalescence after an operation. It is commended from the pulpit by alert preachers. It is exhibited, with approval, by various health and public welfare organizations.

It is a book for the sick and for the well; for those who have broken nervously and those who would guarantee themselves against the possibility of a "nervous breakdown." There are chapters on the Subconscious Mind, The Real Trouble, The Way Out, That Tired Feeling, Dietary Taboos, The Bugaboo of Constipation, Insomnia, Woman's Handicap, and other subjects. Some of these chapters will revolutionize the habits of a lifetime.

It is difficult to imagine anyone reading "Outwitting Our Nerves" without getting from it good worth many times its price. (The price, cloth bound, is $2.50; leather bound, $3.00. Sold at all bookstores.)

ment Cuthbert's last minute shot the Rickies down in the western finals of the National Soccer cup yesterday. It was a 2 to 1 triumph over the Rickies at 47th avenue and 12th avenue.

aying on a field spotted here and there with stripes of ice, the two teams, before 1,800 shivering spectators, were right to remain in the National championship play, fought last night produced a combat crammed with action from the time the game was first kicked.

After a scoreless first half, the Rickies struck through a scoreless period about 15 minutes after the start. Thbert's shot, which was a 2 to 1 triumph over the Rickies at 47th avenue and 12th avenue.

LOYOLA READY FOR NOTRE DAME IN RETURN TILT

Loyola university quintet, which Saturday defeated Notre Dame, 14 to 23, at Notre Dame, will today meet Crane College at the Crane gym in a game which is regarded as preparatory for the return clash with Notre Dame at Loyola Wednesday night. Marquette academy of Milwaukee will meet the Loyola prep on the same bill.

Wednesday will be termed Loyola's "basketball day," and seven games will be played, beginning with the flyweights and bantamweights in the afternoon.

Cochman Leonard Sachs is confident his men will reverse the defeat handed them Saturday.

STATE ATHLETIC BODY BANS ROCKFORD HIGH

Rockford, Ill., Jan. 12.—[Special.]—Rockford High school has been suspended from the State Athletic Association. The action was announced after four hours of deliberation by the state board of control extending to midnight Saturday. This followed an all day meeting, most of which was taken with evidence and argument on Rockford's case.

BOOS, HISSES DURING ILLINOIS GAME BRING EARLY OHIO ACTION

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 12.—[Special.]—To curb future hazing and booing, such as was accorded the Illinois basketball team for alleged stalling while leading in the last six minutes of play in last Saturday's game with Ohio State here, Ohio State athletic officials, headed by George Trueman, assistant athletic director, met informally today to discuss means of prevention.

OLYMPIC SKATERS ARRIVE IN PARIS; JOE MOORE SICK

PARIS, Jan. 12.—The American Olympic skating team, in charge of William Taylor, the manager, reached Paris this evening much fatigued from a unusually rough crossing. Charles Jewtraw, Harry Maskey, William Steinmetz, Valentine Halls, and Richard Donnan, recuperated promptly and expect to be in their usual good physical condition after a night's sleep, but Joe Moore was weak for nine days and is badly used up. He will need a much longer rest. The team will leave for Chamion tomorrow evening. Miss Beatrice Loughran, the American champion figure skater, accompanies the team.

SHAW'S SQUAD TAKES SHOOT

The squad captained by C. R. Shaw yesterday won the first monthly team shoot of the South Shore Country club with a total of 230. The team led by Dr. G. F. Bicknell was second with 215. Each contestant shot at 100 targets from distances ranging from 15 to 25 yards, the five highest scores on each side counting.

Highland Park Upsets Indian Hill Hockeymen

Indian Hill defeated Highland Park 2 goals to 1, in a hard fought North Shore Hockey league game at Highland Park. J. Copeland, right wing, scored the winning point in the third period.

WOODS AND WATERS

W HILE fishing a lake that offers fine sport in the way of several varieties of game fish a fellow doesn't realize the intricate system of plants and animals that exist in that body of water. A system that is really like a big underwater farm with "crops" much like the terrestrial farm produce.

Biologists have figured out that minute plant and animal organisms multiply rapidly with a complete turnover every month. This means quite a "crop" in the course of the year. The investigators have discovered that this underwater farm has, in fact, a regular standing crop of dry material which, in the case of Lake Mendota, Wis., runs about 144 pounds per acre of water surface. In a year that would mean more than a ton of live material for that acre.

It has a quick turnover, take it from us. The larger organisms devour the smaller and in this way the crops are converted from tiny microscopic forms of life into little creatures that can navigate and which are big enough to eat the small fish to enjoy. The biologists point out the water flea as a good example of this "one eats the other" stunt that is always going on under water. The water flea eats the algae and other organisms, which are not so much when we go fishing; the small fish eat the water flea; the big fish eat the small fish; and then the fishermen appear on the scene with their weapons and nab the big fish, which also is eaten.

One day last summer when Bill Doe was rowing up around on Quaker Lake we saw some fellows sitting in a row boat in the lake to get a few minnows. They were wise boys.

GOLFERS TUNE UP FOR CALIFORNIA OPEN TOURNEY

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 12.—Many professionals and 150 amateurs gathered on the Los Angeles Country club links here today in an amateur professional best ball competition preliminary to the California open championship tournament, which will hold forth on this course for three days beginning tomorrow.

Two Los Angeles amateurs, J. H. Moulton Jr. and E. L. Lyons, carried off the laurels with a 65. Four amateur-professional pairs tied with a best ball of 64, which was four better than par.

Seldom, if ever, has a California open tournament attracted such a brilliant field. The opening eight-hole round tomorrow will see a number of the most prominent players pitted against one another, some of these pairings being:

Gene Sarazen, Edgewood, Cal. (former amateur title holder); Arthur Hays Sulzberger, Chicago (former amateur title holder); and Macdonald Smith, San Francisco (former amateur title holder).

Other well known amateurs and professionals include: Jack Neville, San Francisco; Joe Kirkwood, former Australian open champion and present holder of the California open title; Bob Simpson, San Diego; Tom Simpson, San Diego; and Joe Novak, San Francisco.

FOULDS QUINCY WINS. Foulde's basketball team defeated Lake Forest. Foulde's team won 25 to 20, at Lake Forest.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL. Burlington, N. D., 9; Williston, 4.

Country Roads

Chicago's milk strike was nearly this morning in a six hour conference that followed a day of violence. The settlement was brought about through Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, noted as intermediary between the warring factions. The price of milk upon is $2.67 1/2 per hundred pounds, a 50 split of the difference. The price is to be effective for months.

Frank T. Holt of Kenosha, president of the Milk Board, who has been fighting of the producers, promised in some cases deliveries to the state would begin within an hour. Tomorrow morning, he said, delivery will be normal.

Dealers Give in First. Dr. Bundesen was unable to bring the opposing sides into the same until a price had been agreed upon. The bitter had the feeling become.

Dealers under Dr. Bundesen's mediation were the first to give in. They took two hours to bring producers to accept the compromise price.

The settlement came at the beginning of the third week of the strike which started on Jan. 1, when the contract expired. The dealers' price was $2.50 per hundred and producers demanded $2.67 1/2. Later dealers agreed to pay $2.60 and producers offered to accept $2.75. A morning's agreement broke the deadlock.

Milk Dumped in Ditches. Last night's conference closed a night in which the producers' pickets had flooded roads, dumping thousands of gallons of milk into the ditches and confiscating it from farmers who attempted to deliver it at bottling plants. Several such farmers were beaten.

Dr. Bundesen had previously offered to act as mediator after F. Kullman of the Bowman Dairy company, who has acted as spokesman for the dealers, declared a settlement might be necessary to save the industry.

As the strike zone spread yesterday and further plants were closed, picketing became more and more general. Hundreds of farmers in the Chicago milk districts in Illinois and Wisconsin were primed for trouble.

Halt Trucks, Beat Farmers. Farmers who sought to run a gauntlet of their lines—often forced by harridans—were stopped and turned back. Resistance in cases of milk spilled on the ground. In several cases there was personal injury.

At the Lake Geneva plant of the Bowman Dairy company, William Schuchman, a farmer, was dragged from his truck and beaten. His load of more than 1,200 quarts of milk was turned out into a ditch. Another farmer turned back when he reached the picket line. He was pursued and his load of quarts of milk was dumped.

At Bristol, Kenosha county, Leslie Gunther, driver of a milk truck and his father were pulled from truck and beaten. At Burlington, A. C. Stoen was run into the truck and forty-two cans of milk spilled on the ground.

Milk Strikers Are Enjoined. In Lake county, Ill., a temporary injunction restraining the farmers' picketing, or interfering with the carrying of milk to the Bowman Dairy company plants was granted by Judge C. Edwards. A similar injunction was reported to have been granted in Kenosha county, Wis.

A further blow to the dealers when a delegation of them met Health Commissioner Bundesen, and he announced to be showing of eight small Chicago dealers because of failure to live up to health department rules.

Unionists Beat Up "W" Member, Resume Meeting

Waving of a revolver about and threats to shoot up a meeting of the Painters' union in St. Paul, at 308 East 15th place, last night, resulted in the slugging of a member of the organization who lives at 321 West 119th place. When Kensington police arrived the hall they found the meeting in an orderly manner. The room they found Hob in a condition.
